FARCY.

To the Editor of the Times,

SIR,—Having been consulted by many in regard to this dreaded disease which is proving so fatal to our horses in this district, I will say I have had a large number of cases brought to my notice while here in January and also many more since my return and in all except one case I found the same dreaded disease, namely Farcy.

It is one of the most difficult to handle and complete a permanent cure. Why? First it always goes hand in hand with other diseases, making it more difficult to handle and very hard to understand; second, to an inexperienced observer it is so often mistaken for some other disease and treated for such until the whole system is so pregnated that it is a very troublesome case to deal with. While many labor under the impression that it is not contagious I can assure them that it is and just as much so as Glanders, for here let me say that in the treatment of Glanders and Farcy there is a great diversity of opinion as to the relation in which they stand to each other; which is the antecedent, which the consequent. But the most sensible view of the matter, and the one taken by most veterinarians, is this: that the two are but different manifestations of the same disease and that they might with propriety be so treated. Regarding them separately it is difficult to say which is the more acute form, which the more cronic, as it is now generally conceded that a horse afflicted with what may seem at first a well developed case of glanders may be presently laboring under confirmed farcy—the last state apparently worse than the first; again a case of farcy may assume the type to which the name of glanders is applied and in this case also there seems to be a development of the first into a more hopeless disorder. This would be a matter, however, of no special consequence to the intelligent horse owner were it not that the confused notions of men concerning the two affections might chance to bring him face to to face with this so dreaded disease, glanders. Let the horse owner be assured that it is wholly unnecessary to trouble himself with nice questions as to the priority of either disease or the real difference between them, as the one important point for him is to be able to detect in the incipiency of an attack of either that one of them is present in some form, and quoting the old adage, "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," in no disease will this more fully apply. Let me say, it is a duty we owe to ourselves, as well as to our neighbor, to do all we can to stop the spreading of this contagious disease. No man has a right to keep id his possession a horse so diseased as to endanger his neighbor's horses.

Yours truly,

G. W. VAN GILDER.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., March, 1894.

THE DECEMVIRATE.

The report that ten Democratic Senators have signed a written pledge to oppose the Wilson Bill unless each one of the ten secures modifications to protect the interests of his state is a canard. But as the Senate consists of 44 Democrats, 38 Republicans and 3 populists, the tariff bill will require nearly the unanimous support of the Democrats. The Louisiana Senators will not support a measure to destroy millions invested in sugar production and detract millions from the production of the state. Other Senators sympathize with them, partly because the sugar industry makes a market for thirty million dollars worth of products from north, east and west states, from Alabama to Minnesota and Massachusetts; for bread-stuff, corn, oats, pease, hay, meat, mules, horses, cooperage, machinery, shoes, clothing, coal, etc. The sugar bounty must go, but whatever opinion may be held as to that kind of paternalism, and it does not seem popular, it has had one small advantage for the lovers of maple sugar. The government inspector's stamp has proved good evidence to the city buyers of a good article, and the selling of common sugar flavored with a decoction of walnut bark or with a small mixture of true maple sugar has anguished.

KILLED A BEAR.

Cleveland brings back a hunter's trophy from the Dismal Swamp, a bear skin. He has had a good time, short but sweet, away from the urgency of office seekers, the multitude of callers, the treadmill of executive labors and the worries of anticipated legislation. While the President was away the House passed Bland's bill for coining seignorage and now there is a guessing bee on. Will Cleveland veto the bill or not, after it passes the Senate? Nobody knows.

QUINCY.

The investigation by Messrs. Gorman, Ransom and Manderson of the patent office lithographing has established that Mr. Quincy whilst Assistant Secretary of State took extraordinary pains to secure a contract for Kenney to whom Quincy and his friends had advanced money for political purposes. Kenney seems to have been interested in several campaign papers, the National Economist, the American Industries and the Pathfinder and it now looks as though certain yankee politicians furnished money to him and were now recouping by a government contract obtained through the efforts of Quincy. The great delays and the inferior work done by the new company proved inconvenient to the public and fatal to the chief draughtsman Marvin of the patent office. The rejected and inferior work passed through his official hands and his very mild objectione to muddy, obscure, cheap and tardy illustrations aroused the wrath of the virtuous Quincy & Co. and he was "bounced" which was certainly "tough" on a grand army man who had survived through the Harrison Administration.

THE MOODY MEETINGS.

Close this week, the interest being unabated. People go hours in advance to secure seats and before the time of opening the meeting the doors are closed. Vigorous door keepers and policemen turn away disappointed crowds. The same thing happens at the overflow meeting a little later. Moody's talks are plain earnest, anecdotal and practical. Religious, business and social honesty, domestic and neighborly kindness and fidelity, nobility, temperance, sincerity, faith—these are the lessons which he teaches with a hearty and homely force, with less extravagance of rhetoric and flash of caustic oratory than Jones or Small and more practical and virile logic than Hammond or Harrison he stands at the heap of revival preachers.

CAPITAL.

SASKATOON.

The revival services recently conducted in the methodist church here promise to be productive of permanent good. The absence of excitement, and the very quiet and kindly spirit shown by the Rev. Mr. Cook, of Prince Albert, contrasted favorably with meetings for a similar purpose which we have often seen. The young people who accepted the invitation to follow Christ are keeping up the interest in the meetings of the Christian Endeavor Society held weekly.

Since the conclusion of the revival services the Mutual Improvement Society has resumed its discussions of live issues. "Socialism" met with some warm supporters, but the arguments in its behalf did not convince many. At the last meeting, on Monday evening, prohibition of the liquor traffic was discussed but owing to the small proportion of liquor or license men assistance to that side had to be given by a staunch prohibitionist: there is little chance of liquor being advocated even "with faint praise" by a Saskatoon meeting.

Judge McGuire and Crown Prosecutor McKay stayed over two days here on their way to Battleford.

Capt. E.S. Andrews is getting round again after his severe accident. He still suffers, but we are glad to see him alive and hope he will soon recover his old vigor. The accident happened in the bush when he and George Doane were getting out building logs a fortnight ago The latter let a large tree fall on "Cap" without sufficient warning and he was crushed down senseless in the snow. He began to revive after nearly an hour's unconsciousness, and suffered severely on the road home and for some days after. He says he will never trust another man in the bush.

Mr. John J. Caswell of Osler is now in Ireland on immigration business, and as John is a good and successful farmer he will be able to tell the truth favorably for the Northwest

Mrs. G H. Fletcher is expected back from Ontario by an early train.

Call and see T. O. Davis' new stock of Boots and Shoes, his prices will surprise you.

PRINCE ALBERT, MAR 23 1894

MERE APPEARANCE.

No one has, up to the present, ever disputed that it is the undoubted right of every true Briton to grumble when things don't suit him, whether there is reason or not does not matter. This priceless privilege belongs to Englishmen and let us hope the time may never come when it will be forfeited. Those, however, in this district who are excercising this privelege and complaining because for the third time during the life of the present parliament the member for Saskatchewan has been absent from the opening and first few weeks of the session, should remember that no man—even if he does enjoy the distinction of being a member of parliament and the added elevation of representing Saskatchewan— can be in two places at one and the same time, particularly when the places are so widely separated as are Prince Albert and Parliament Hill. The majority of readers will accept this statement as truth, those who object, need not accept it at all. Then again there is no North west business during the first few weeks of the session except, of course, the introduction by the new Grit member Jos. Martin of such an uninteresting and unimportant matter as a bill to give the ballot to the Northwest. The presentation of the estimates, and the budget debate, and sundry other minor matters of equal trifling nature, and further the fact that every other member and Senator from Manitoba, Northwest Territories and British Columbia has been in attendance from the opening is indisputable evidence that their presence is not required during the first weeks. Appearance! mere appearance! that's all. In the language of a prominent local financier the grumblers should not allow themselves to be "bamboozled" into thinking that the Northwest members go to Ottawa other than for mere form's sake. Consistency thou art a paste diamond.

SEPARATION.

We have received a copy of Hon. Jos. Royal's brochure entitled "A Republic or a colony, some remarks on the present crisis." Just what motive Mr. Royal had in view, in thus publicly expressing convictions which, it is not likely were hastily formed, it is of course impossible to know. The sentiments expressed in favor of Canadian independence and separation from England come with peculiar interest from a man who less than six months ago was the sworn representative of Queen Victoria in the North-West Territories, under oath to be truly loyal to Her Majesty, and the institutions of her empire, and to be ever active in defending his Queen and country from the assaults of those who would seek to disintegrate and dismember the British Empire. It seems most improbable that the ex-Lieutenant-Governor could have formed his opinions and reached the conclusions set forth in his pamphlet in favor of separation from England, in the brief space of time since he vacated the gubernatorial chair at Regina. If then, while yet the Queen's representative, and the servant of the Canadian people and their government Mr. Royal held the convictions he now expresses, and, as is quite natural to suppose, was sowing seeds of independence and separation, by what name intelligent people will ask, can such conduct be designated? Now that the royal prohibition commission has ended its labors we offer the suggestion that the government issue fresh orders to it to probe for loyalty amongst all Lieutenant-Governors and public servants in Canada.

In conversation with a prominent Stoney Creek farmer a few days ago he expressed surprise that so far as it had been reported or he had heard, that in the discussions respecting the Manitoba & North-Westesn Railway, nothing has been said about the immense benefits would result from the building of that road in the way of opening up competition in articles of local manufacture. "Take for instance," said he, "lumber manufactured here, it is said is sold cheaper at Regina after paying high rates freight than at Prince Albert. Reason—competion with eastern and western mills. So when the M. & N.W. R. is completed if that company does not discriminate against the eastern mills the settlers in the districts through which the road will pass will save many hundreds of dollars by the competition in this one article that will ensue."

From the farmer's standpoint this view must seem reasonable, still manufacturers claim that prices are now at the lowest possible notch. We will possibly have some years to wait before the test can be made. In the meantime Regina, Moose Jaw and other towns on the main line purchase our lumber cheaper than we do ourselves notwithstanding the combine of eastern lumber merchants.

MEETING OF REGINA PRESBYTERY.

The Regina Presbytery met at Indian Head March 13th. Present: Mr. Matheson (Moderator), Messrs. Carmichael, Campbell, McMillan, Welsh, McKechnie, McLeod, Muirhead, Scott, Robson and Clay, (ministers), and Messrs. Murray, Crawford and Byers, elders. The Home Mission committees business was first taken up, and a number of special claims for fields passed. Grants for the ensuing half year were also passed. Owing to the constantly changing centres of population it was necessary to rearrange a number of mission fields. Rosedale was severed from the Lansdowne field and joined to Glen Adelaide. The Colleston field was divided and Duck Lake, Carlton, Willoughby and the Ridge made one field, while Colleston, Island Lake and the Forks were grouped into another. The fields in the south eastern part of the Presbytery were left in the hands of the convener, with Messrs. Cameron and Scott. A new field was opened north east of Wolseley. The Dakota settlement was annexed to Touchwood. A deputation was appointed to visit the Grenfell field. The Carnduff congregation was urged to seek some less expensive place of worship and to proceed with the building of a church as early as practicable. Grants to augmented congregations were then passed—in most cases a slight reduction on last year. A deputation from St. Andrew's church, Indian Head, stated that owing to the death or removal of general very liberal contributors, and the fact of their near neighborhood being practically closed to new settlers, they were unable to raise the salary promised their pastor, and asked the presbytery to take the whole matter into consideration. A committee having been appointed the case was fully gone into, and the following decision arrived at, viz., "That in view of the foregoing facts the stipend remain as it is for the next six months, that then the pastoral tie be dissolved and the congregation be placed on the list of mission stations." In this decision all parties acquiesed, and Mr. Welsh tendered his resignation, to take effect October 1st, 1894. Mr. Campbell was appointed to visit the congregation and cite them to appear for their interests at the next meeting of Presbytery. Circulars from Picton and London Presbyteries intimated that application would be made to receive as ministers of this church Revs. Willard P. Anderson and Robert Alvard, B.A., ministers of the Baptist and Congregationalist churches respectively. Mr. Scott, of Oxbow, was appointed to represent this Presbytery at the conference to be called to consider the changing of the bounds of the Presbyteries of the Synod of Manitoba and the N. W. Territories. Petitions from Buffalo Lake and Qu'Appele asking that steps be taken for the ordination of Mr. John McAlister were received, when a committee was appointed to draft an overture to the assembly seeking power to license catechists to dispense ordinances. The resignation of Mr. Robson, of Fort Qu'Appelle was received, and as he still pressed its acceptance he was on motion relieved of his charge after the first of April next, and a committee appointed to draft a suitable minister on his retirement. Mr. Matheson was appointed Moderator of Fort Qu'Appelle session and Mr. Moore moderator of Qu'Appelle Station. A deputation was appointed to visit Cathcart field. The reports of the following standing committees were received and adopted: Statistics and Finance, the State of Religion, Temperance, and Sabbath Schools. Mr. Muirhead was appointed Treasurer. Dr. G. L. McKay, Formosa, was nominated moderator of the General Assembly and the following Commissioners appointed: Messrs. McMillan, McKenzie, Matheson, Carmichael and Clay, ministers, and Messrs. Crawford, Martin, Motherwell, Hon. D. Laird and John Clay, elders. Messrs. Wiltshire and Graham were received as students for the ministry under the care of the Presbytery and recommended for work. Remits from Assembly were approved. Mr. Skene, of File Hills, addressed the Presbytery on his work among the Indians. The next meeting of Presbytery was appointed to be held in Regina on the second Wednesday of July.

W. L. CLAY, Clerk

Perfect health is seldom found, for impure blood is so general. Hood's Sarsaparilla really does purify the blood and restores health.

Winter Feeding.

When horses and cattle are kept in stables most of the winter and are fed on dry food, they are apt to get out of condition and the spring finds animals that are not thriving, many have actually lost during the winter and have to do all their "picking up" when turned out to grass. All this can be prevented and animals made to gain all winter long by using Dick's Blood Purifier. Note the name—Dick's not Richard's.

Don't Delay

It is your duty to yourself to get rid of the foul accumulation in your blood this spring. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine you need to purify, vitalize and enrich your blood. That tired feeling which affects nearly every one in the spring is driven off by Hood's Sarsaparilla the great spring medicine and blood purifier.

Hood's Pills become the favorite cathartic with every one who tries them.

TOWN TOPICS,
The Journal of Society,
(32 PAGES.) NEW YORK. (THURSDAY.)

Is universally recognized as the most complete weekly journal in the world.

Its "Saunterings" columns are inimitable. Its society news, especially of the doings of the 400 of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, and all over the world, is not equalled by any newspaper. Its Financial Department is authority with all bankers and brokers. Its "Literary Show"—notes on current literature—is by the cleverest of reviewers. Its "Afield and Afloat" makes it the most interesting paper for all lovers of sport—yachting, football, rowing, shooting, fishing, etc. Its "On the Turf" excels all other racing notes. Its burlesques, poems and jokes are the cleverest. Its stories are by the best writers—among them Amélie Rives, F. Marion Crawford, Julian Hawthorne, Edgar Fawcett, Gilbert Parker, Mary J. Hawker ("Lanoe Falconer"), Barry Pain, Paul Bourget, Rudyard Kipling, Ambrose Bierce, etc., etc., and are, even if a trifle risqué, yet always clever, bright and pretty, without coarseness or anything to offend the most refined and moral woman. In addition to all this there is each week a supplement, portrait, in colors, of some man eminent in his walk of life.

Tales From Town Topics

Quarterly, first day of March, June, September, December; 256 pages; 12mo. Contains in each number, in addition to short stories, poems, burlesques, etc., from the old issues of TOWN TOPICS, a complete, original prize story of 150 to 200 pages.

No one who enjoys the highest class of fiction, and would be au courant with all that pertains to good society, can afford to be without TOWN TOPICS every week. There is so much interesting reading in it and in the "Tales," that a club subscription to both will supply any family with abundant reading of the most entertaining character all the year.

RATES:

Town Topics per annum, $4.00. A trial subscription for three months, $1.00, and a specimen copy of "Tales" Free.

Tales From Town Topics, per number, 50 cents. Per annum, $2.00.

Both Clubbed, per annum, $5.00, and any two previous Numbers of "Tales" you may specify FREE.

A paragraph appeared in the last number of the Regina Leader relating the details of an alleged case of gross inhumanity which was said to have taken place at Moore & Macdowall's lumber camp some miles north of this town, and which would convey the impression that the foreman at the camp was more of a brute than a man. Having taken particular pains to enquire into this case of alleged inhumanity THE TIMES can positively assert that there is very little truth in the paragraph published by the Leader Tuxford, the victim of the accident, did not ask for conveyance to Prince Albert, on the contrary, he refused to leave the camp believing that the injured member would in a few days be well, and consequently he wished to remain and keep his job, when it was found that medical attendance was necessary the injured man was conveyed to the town and he remained here for a week or ten days. The foreman of the camp states positively that the above facts are so and in this he is backed by many of the men who were employed at the same camp.

The Globe, Toronto, is giving Canadians an opportunity of seeing picturesque Canada upon very reasonable terms. This work which is thoroughly descriptive of Canada, was written by G. M. Grant, D.D. of Queen's University, Kingston, and is profusely illustrated by wood engravings from some of the most eminent artists of the day. It being produced in parts of 24 pages each, one part appearing each week, and can be secured by cutting out one coupon, which can be found in all editions, and forwarding it to their art department, along with 1 cent in stamps or coin to pay mailing and postage. The opportunity of possessing so valuable an edition to our literature is one which should be taken advantage of by every Canadian who wants to know something about his own country, and we hope the Globe's generous offer will meet with the approval that their enterprise deserve.

CURLING.

On Thursday of last week the curlers held their annual bonspiel, which is usually the last of the regular games of the season. Six teams had been drawn for and matched and one of the best contested matches of the season was enjoyed. The match was for a curlers dinner, the losers to pay for their own and that of their opponents in the match. The dinner, which took place in the Council Chamber of the town hall, was an excellent one, and reflected great credit on the caterer, Mr. Jackson of the Leland House, and for the price charged surpassed anything of the kind we have attended in the town. After the cloth had been removed a lengthy programme of toasts, speeches, recitations and songs was participated in and enjoyed in a manner which is always so well and thoroughly done by curlers. There were some twenty five curlers present, and from the president (Mr. T N. Campbell) down to the last man who spoke on the subject one and all were strongly in favor of building a covered rink for next season to replace the one so unfortunately blown down a year ago. A number of the speakers expressed their willingness to subscribe towards that object, and we feel assured that many others will follow their example and that next year the club will enjoy the roarin' game in a comfortable building of their own. The singing of "Auld lang Syne" about midnight brought to a conclusion one of the happiest evenings the club have spent together. The following are the names of those who took part in the bonspiel:—

On Wednesday last a challenge game was played between the "Toms" and the legal members of the club. Owing to press of business Mr J McKay was unable to be present, and Warden Northgraves took his place as "skip" for the legal lights. The "Toms," who are regaining their old prestige, were victorious, after a well played game by both teams.

Coun Kerr returned home from Brandon Saturday last, where he had been attending an A.O.U.W. Grand Lodge meeting. Mr. Kerr, who is M.W. of the local lodge, has been appointed D.D.G.M. of the Regina district.

There is a constant demand for good music by the best composers: and it is almost imperatively required that the instruments through which the music is interpreted should be of the very first quality and of the most modern and improved make. Fortunately there are manufacturers of high repute who can more than keep pace with the growing musical requirements of the age. That we have such in Canada any one can be satisfied who pays a visit to the fine exhibit of the Uxbridge Piano and Organ Co. This company's old established reputation for Organs is more than equalled in the department of Pianos. A Mail reporter had the privilege yesterday of examining these beautiful instruments. They embody a new departure from the general form of upright pianos, in the shape of receding front giving a continuous orchestra book rack. A new and valuable feature is the introduction of a third pedal which softens the tone and lessens the wear making the Piano last twice as long without this protection. These instruments mark a distinct advance in the Upright Piano which is likely to prove revolutionary. They are built according to exact scientific principles, are modern in every particular and far ahead of the Upright Piano. Their compass is the largest of any piano manufactured and the power, brilliancy, and sweetness of their tone have won the warm commendation of very high authority. Toronto Mail

MADE FROM OAT HULLS.

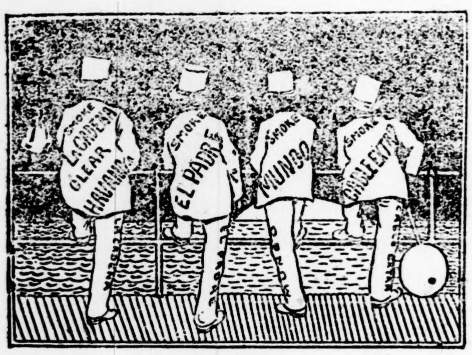

How a Good Quality of Paper Is Made in Scotland.

Some of the paper products from oat refuse, according to the method pursued in Scotland, are by no means deficient in the qualities of strength and serviceableness that characterize the product of other materials used for this purpose. The process consists in first immersing the oat husks in a tank of water, in order to float off mustard and other seeds with which they are frequently more or less mixed, and which, if not separated, materially deteriorate the quality of the paper; it is of advantage, too, to have the water very thoroughly stirred, as this facilitates the separation of the foreign seeds, and allows them to float to the surface. The oat husks having gradually settled, the surface scum and any floating matters are drawn off by an overflow pipe at the top of the tank, or skimmed off by any convenient implement, after which the water is well drained off by a waste water pipe at the bottom of the tank and beneath a perforated false bottom, or fitted with a strainer which retains the husks. The husks may be left to steep in the water five to ten hours after removing the scum, as this, by softening, helps to loosen the silica from the fiber and facilitates the subsequent boiling process.—N. Y. Sun.

Novel Danger Signal.

The Irish hero, Fingal, had the felicity to be under his own thumb, that member serving as a danger signal, aching in a peculiar way when trouble impended, when he had only to put it into his mouth to become immediately instructed how to overcome the difficulty of the hour. So, by the pricking of her thumbs, telling her "something wicked this way comes," did the weird sister know of Macbeth's approach before her ears caught his footfall.—Chicago Mail.

We are under the necessity of informing our customers and the public in general that from this date forward we will positively refuse to extend credit for anything in our line of goods, unless by special arrangement. We are forced to this decision by the accumulation of small accounts which in the aggregate means a great deal to us. Individual purchases are usually for small amounts and we think it within the reach of everyone to comply, especially when our prices are so fair and reasonable. Drugs. Patent medicines, Toilet articles, &c., as well as all prescriptions filled by us must therefore be paid for at time of purchase We think this course will eventually prove mutually benificial, and will positively not deviate therefrom.

DISCRIMINATION THAT KILLS

The farmers of the Northwest do not require to be told that they are taxed too heavily for the carriage of their wheat. They know that in comparison with rates for similar distances and under similar conditions the farmers of Minnesota, the Dakotas, Iowa, Wisconsin and Kansas can get their wheat to the seaboard for from five to ten cents per bushel less than they are made to pay the C.P.R. for hauling to Montreal. They know it and they feel the injustice. The exaction robs them of just so much on every bushel they sell. It is a tribute to monopoly. They come face to face with it. It is open and palpable, something they can see and grasp. It is direct taxation. But what they do not realize so forcibly is the other fact that they are taxed just as heavily on every article of general merchandise that they consume. That is a matter, however, that directly concerns the people of the cities and towns as much as it does the farmers. The latter are bled in extortionate rates on their products going out; we are all bled in extortionate rates on merchandise coming in, but it is a sort of indirect tax like the tariff and we do not immediately grasp it.

The C.P.R. has a road from the Sault to St. Paul and Minneapolis, to enable that company to compete for the trade of the Northwestern States. It was not obtained without the expenditure of a large amount of money. It is being extended south of us through Dakota. The capital to carry out this enterprise was raised on the credit of its Canadian property, to the building up of which every man of us has contributed his share. The company is doing a large business between St. Paul and Minneapolis at one end and Boston and New York at the other. New York is to St. Paul and Minneapolis what Montreal is to Winnipeg; it is the seaport of the Northwestern States, as Montreal is the seaport of the Canadian Northwest. The distances are practically identical. That from New York to Minneapolis is as nearly as possible 1,3[illegible] miles; from Montreal to Winnipeg is 1,421 miles. It is not generally known that the C.P.R. carries merchandise from New York to Minneapolis for almost exactly one-half it charges from Montreal to Winnipeg. Yet this is the truth. It is serving the American people, over a road built on Canadian credit, for about one-half less than it serves the people of the Northwest. It is time we were getting to realize this outrage—we do not suppose that there will be any two opinions that it is an outrage. Is it not an outrage to be made to contribute to the building of a road in the United States, that this Canadian company may give cheap freight rates to the Americans while it is charging us up to the hilt on both outgoing and incoming freights? That this company discriminates enormously in favor of its American trade the published, authorized, official rates at present in force will show. Let them be carefully studied. The figures are for the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th classes of freight and include the great bulk of articles the people here consume. Under class 1 for instance comes nearly every kind of agricultural implement; binders, mowers, seeders, threshers, fanning mills, cutters, drills, ploughs, harrows, and such like. Dry goods generally come under class 4; shelf and heavy hardware under class 5. Sugar, tobacco, and groceries generally come under class 5: and so do binding twine, barbed wire, coal oil, crockery, earthenware, glassware and silverware, wool, hides and skins, nails. Class 5 covers the great majority of the articles we in the Northwest have to buy in order to live. Now observe how we are treated in comparison with the people across the line. On class 1 the rate from New York to Minneapolis is $1.15 per 100 lbs.; from Montreal to Winnipeg it is $2.09½. On class 2 the rates are 99 cents and $1.77½; on class 3 73 cents and $1.40½; on class 4, 52 cents and $1.08, more than double; on class 5, 44 and 89½ again more than double. The rates from Fort William to Winnipeg, 427 miles, are within a fraction as high as the C.P.R. charges from New York to Minneapolis, nearly three and a half times the distance. Let us put the figures in tabulated shape, for greater readiness of comparison:

CLASSES	1	2	3	4	5
New York to Minneapolis (1,3[illegible] miles)	1.15	99	73	52	44
Montreal to Winnipeg (1,421 miles)....	2.09½	1.77½	1.40½	1.08½	89½
Fort William to Winnipeg (427 miles).	93	79	65	56	47

It will be observed that the Fort William rates on classes 4 and 5 are actually higher than are charged the Americans from New York to Minneapolis. And it is particularly to be borne in mind that the Fort William rates quoted are not the local rates, but the actual proportion of the through rates charged on shipments from the East.

How is this country to prosper in the face of such discrimination as this? We who are bled to the extreme limit of our endurance feel it most directly, for the weight of it rests on us; but the people in the East are also interested. Our capacity to consume is diminished in proportion to the extortion in freight rates. If given a chance to prosper we would become better customers, to the of the commercial centres of the East. Our own boards of trade have considered the situation time and again and protested against it; we think the time has come when the boards of trade of Toronto and Montreal should also consider it, and in the interests they represent lend us their powerful assistance in our efforts to obtain relief. The question is ours in the first instance no doubt; but it is theirs too if they desire to aid in the commercial development of the Northwest and to share in the advantage that would accrue from it.—The Nor'-Wester.

EXODUS TO CANADA

A Colony of Hungarians to Settle on Northwestern Farms.

Pittsburg, March 1.—The eyes of the Hungarians of the United States are at this time fixed upon Rev. John Kovacs pastor of the Grace Reformed Church of his city. Rev. Mr. Kovacs is a Hungarian himself and he is soon to head a colony of 100 families of his countrymen into the Canadian northwest, there to settle, and follow the occupation for which nature has fitted them, which is farming. The exodus will take place about April 1 and several American cities will thus lose part of their foreign population. Among those from which the largest number will be taken are New York, Buffalo and Newark. Only three families are going from Pittsburg, but quite a number will leave the coke region in the vicinity about Uniontown.

FARMERS AT HOME

The idea of getting the Hungarians in America to settle on the farm lands of the west has been a pet scheme of Mr. Kovacs ever since he came to this country and settled in Pittsburg two and a half years ago. He says the Hungarians are poorly adapted to the work in factories, at the coke ovens and in the mines which they have to perform. They were farmers at home, and he would have them farmers here. He has been negotiating with the Canadian government for over a year, and having at last perfected arrangements he will begin operations at once. The government is very anxious to get settlers and will give each one 160 acres of land on long time, a cash payment of $10 being all that is required. Mr. Kovacs has seen the land and says it is very good. A few of the settlers are to come from Hungary.

We understand that Mr. Waggoner, an old resident of this town and now a Dominion Immigration agent, is doing his utmost to secure this colony as settlers for this district, and we hope he may prove successful.

CLEVELAND '94

The Thirteenth International Christian Endeavor Convention is to be held in Cleveland, O., July 11–15, 1894. Cleveland Endeavorers are hard at work laying plans for the proper care and entertainment of the expected thousands.

The Committee of '94 are planning for anywhere from 25,000 to 40,000 delegates.

Norman E Hills, 372 Sibley St Cleveland, O., is the chairman of the Entertainment Committee, and the only person to whom you should write for all particulars in this line.

Up to date ten thousand applications have been received from those who wish accomodations. Several States have been assigned headquarters.

The five Christian Endeavor districts of the city have been divided into sections each section representing a state. Some church will be made headquarters for the section and will be open all day for the convenience of delegates from that state. Here committees can meet, friends confer, announcements be made, etc. Most of the delegates will be cared for in the delightful homes of Cleveland, the hotels being able to accommodate comparatively few. Every house where delegates are quartered will display in the window a large C.E. monogram, the name of the state from where the person comes being hung below it.

In addition to our fine large auditorium which will seat about 9,000 people, the Hall Committee has rented a mammoth tent that will seat 10,000 people. Music Hall with a seating capacity of 5,000 can be brought into service, as can a number of small places besides adjacent churches.

The official paper of the Cleveland Union, The Cleveland Endeavor, will contain all convention news. If you wish to keep informed about the preparations being made send twenty-five cents to Waltar S. Lewis, 160 Public Square, Cleveland, O., and the paper will be sent until after the convention.

THE WAGGIN' O' OUR DOG'S TAIL

Tune—"The Barrin' o' oor Door."

We hae a dog that wag- his tail—
He's a bit o' a wag himsel', O:
A' da he wa d rs through the street—
At nicht h 's n ws to tell, O
He saw the Provost o' the toon
Parade' doon the street, O:
Quo' he, "ay for t, ye're no' like me—
Ye canna see ye're feet, O."

The waggin' o'oor dog's tail, tail, tail,
And the waggin' o' oor dog's tail.

He saw an M.P. u co prood,
And a' thro place and pay, O;
Quo he "Your 'ail is cockit heich—
Ilka dog has just his day, O."
He saw the doctor drivin' aboot,
An' pu'in at ev'r bell O:
Quo' he "I've been as sick's a dog,
But I aye could cure mysel', O."

The waggin', etc.

He saw some ministers fechtin' sair—
What an awfu' thing is pri e, O;
Quo' he "Isn't it a pity when dogs fa' oot
Aboot their ain fireside, O?"
He heard a lord and lady gay
Singin' heich a grand du t, O;
Quo' he "I've heard a cat and dog
Could yowl as weel as that, O."

The waggin', etc.

He saw a youth gaun swaggerin' by
Frae tap to tae sae trim, O
Quo' he "It's no for a dog to lauch
That a ce was a puppy like him, O."
He saw a man grown unco puir,
And lookin' sad and sick, O
Quo' he "Cheer up, for ilka dog
Is sure o' a bane to pick, O."

The waggin', etc.

He saw a man gaun staggerin' hame,
His face baith black and blue, O:
Quo' he "I think shame o' a brute like that,
For the never a dog gets fou, O:"
Oor doggie he cam' hame at e'en,
And scartit baith his lugs, O;
Quo' he "If men had only tails
They'd be maist as guid as dogs, O."

Prince Albert,
March 23 1893.

How many persons know that Ripans Tabules, now so largely advertised and used, are simply the favorite prescription of their family doctor prepared in a scientific manner and a form convenient for handling, conveyance, preservation and use? In the great hospitals of the metropolitan cities, where the wealthy find better care than in their own luxurious homes, the ingredients of Ripans Tabules are administered to thousands of rich and poor alike with beneficial effect. They are the main dependence of the most eminent physicians in cases of derangement of the digestive organs, such as dyspepsia, constipation, billiousness and other ills connected with the stomach, liver and bowels. For some years one of the principal hospitals in New York City has used a formula, differing slightly from the common one, that has been found of unusual efficacy. Through the commendations of physicians its mission of healing has been so widely and rapidly extending that it finally seemed desirable to prepare the prescriptions in a convenient form, so as to make it available to the whole public at a moderate price, and to announce the fact through the recognized medium for securing publicity—advertisements in the columns of the newspapers of the land. This has been done, and now the time is not far distant when every family of intelligence will be as certain to possess a supply of Ripans Tabules as a clock or a cooking stove. They are already to be found on sale almost everywhere, and any druggist or dealer will supply them. A box, containing six vials, is sold for 75 cents, and a gross package, containing four boxes, for $2. They will be sent by mail, post paid, to any address on receipt of price, by the Ripans Chemical Company, No. 10 Spruce St., New York.
